

M18 motorway (Great Britain)

For other uses, see List of M18 roads \(disambiguation\).

The M18 is a motorway in Yorkshire, England. It runs from the east of Sheffield and Rotherham to Goole and is approximately 26 miles (42 km) long. A section of the road forms part of the unsigned Euroroute E13.

Contents

- Route
 - Finningley and Rossington Regeneration Route Scheme
- History
- Junctions
- See also
- References
- External links

Route

The M18 runs in a north east/south west direction from junction 32 of the M1 motorway to junction 35 of the M62 motorway. It passes east of Rotherham, southeast of Doncaster and Armthorpe, and west of Thorne. It meets the A1\(M\) at junction 2 (A1\(M\) junction 35)—known as the Wadworth Interchange—and the M180 motorway at junction 5. Access to Doncaster is provided from junctions 3

M18 motorway

Route information

Part of E13 E13

Length: 26.5 mi (42.6 km)

Existed: 1967 – present

History: Constructed 1967–79

Major junctions

From: Thurcroft

53.3811°N 1.2785°W

M1 motorway

A1\(M\) motorway

M180 motorway

M62 motorway

To: Rawcliffe

53.6825°N 0.9576°W

Location

Primary destinations: Rotherham, Doncaster

Road network

- Roads in the United Kingdom
- Motorways
- A and B road zones

